

New Route PhD students must have:

2 article publications / acceptances which are cited in ISI, PubMed or JCR, OR have one article published in journals categorized as Q1 / the top 10% in the field related to Web of Science.

Note: Publication of an international patent can replace all articles.

PhD by Research students must have:

3 article publications/ acceptances resulted from the thesis with their name as the first author of the articles. At most, one of the articles may be published at the TUMS accredited journals.

Note: one of the articles must be in a journal with Impact Factor equal to or greater than 1.

PhD students must have:

2 articles that have been published/accepted by journals which are cited in ISI or PubMed,

Note: One of the articles must be resulted from the thesis, and student must be the first author of it. If the other article is not resulted from the thesis, it must be about the student's field of study.

MSc/MPH students must have:

Submission of one article cited in ISI, PubMed or Scopus, resulted from the thesis to the IC-TUMS, Research office.

Note: The proof of the submission/acceptance/publication of the article must be presented to the school.