

Director Information

Prof. Amirhossein Takian (MD, MPH, PhD, FHEA) is the Director of the Center of Excellence for Global Health at TUMS. He is also the Chair and Professor at the Department of Global Health & Public Policy, and Vice-Dean for International Affairs at the School of Public Health. Prof. Takian has a distinguished career in health policy analysis, with over 200 peer-reviewed journal articles, 50 books / book chapters, and numerous national and international reports. He has supervised over 41 MSc, 70 PhD students, and four postdoctoral fellows and has been an invited keynote speaker at global events such as the United Nations and World Health Summit.

Prof. Takian is the International President and a member of the Executive Committee at the World Health Summit in Germany. He is also a co-founding member of the Council for the Virchow Foundation for Global Health and serves on the Scientific and Technical Advisory Group (STAK) at the Health Policy Alliance of the World Health Organization.

Click here to download his CV.

More information about other academic members of the center can be found at: <https://en.tums.ac.ir/cegh/en/content/1278/board-and-committees>